PURE DECADENCE

INFINITY POOL / JONQUIL SUITE

CARIBBEAN COOL

BY MIKE ESPINDLE

Fresh from a recent $12 million renovation that touched all guest rooms, villas, public spaces, and all three restaurants at Anguilla's classic luxury getaway, Cap Juluca's signature accommodation, the Jonquil Suite, has finally made its new debut, as well. Expect two gorgeous master bedroom suites, a private infinity pool, and full gourmet kitchen amid the 3,290 square feet of oceanfront opulence. The simple, colorful, and island-appropriate décor is hallmarked by wood-beamed ceilings, bold geometric patterns, and textured jute and shag rugs. Bright pops of turquoise complement the dazzling ocean panoramas, which past guests like Brad Pitt and David Schwimmer may have spent hours gazing at.

Spend your time exploring the gorgeous white sand crescent beach of the resort, or hop aboard the newly refurbished Juluca Pride, a 12-person cruiser that can shuttle your party out onto the bright blue Caribbean to explore Anguilla's many natural wonders or even take you over to nearby St. Maarten or St. Barths. Request Captain Elvis, a savvy buccaneer, to provide charming and knowledgeable guide service for your island explorations. Another personnel plus, luxury hotel veteran Carlos Lopes, late of the Hotel Bel-Air in Los Angeles, is at the helm of the resort. The Jonquil Suite goes for about $6,000 a night in high season.
