

PRIVATE Clubs

A C C E S S T H E L U X E L I F E

SUMMER 2017

Lake Tahoe

Not just for skiing anymore;
lots to do in summer, too

3 really cool
convertibles
for your driving pleasure

Orange Wines

Gaining in popularity fast.
Why you should try 'em.

JAPAN

Many new developments make this Asian land even more enchanting

Kiwi Golf

How You Can Tee It Up
on an Ultra-Exclusive
New Zealand Course

And more...

Aboard Silversea's new Muse
Chicago. Why go this summer
Make-your-own ice cream

Connect.

People Just Like You

“
*We've created a place where sports fans and fine dining foodies
can come together.*

— Teemu Selanne

”

Kevin Pratt and Teemu Selanne

Coto de Caza Golf & Racquet Club.
Coto de Caza, Calif.

Members since: Pratt, 1998; Selanne, 2001

Who they are: Co-owners of Selanne Steak Tavern and the adjacent retail TS Gourmet Shoppe in Laguna Beach, Calif.

How it happened: Retired NHL great Selanne had dreamed of owning a restaurant, and when he learned his good friend, Orange County businessman Pratt, had the same idea, they joined forces. “Here we are a few years later with a restaurant in one of the most beautiful locations in Southern California,” Pratt says.

What they offer: The upscale tavern serves modern American fare and artisanal cocktails and boasts a wine list lauded by Wine Spectator. TS Gourmet Shoppe stocks many of the oils and seasonings used in menu items, as well as hockey memorabilia. “There’s a little something for everyone to take home,” Selanne says.

A day in the life: Both men oversee operations and Selanne sometimes slips behind the bar to mix drinks. “I love meeting the people who are dining with us.”

— PAULA FELPS

From left,
Kevin Pratt
and Teemu
Selanne